eBI Solutions Announces New Chief Technologist to Provide Leadership for Consultants and Customer

Edward Lee superbly qualified to lead initiatives

Anaheim, CA—February 26, 2007— eBI Solutions, a Microsoft Gold Certified Partner, is pleased to announce Edward Lee's promotion to Chief Technologist. Lee is superbly qualified to lead the company's technical teams with his extensive background in business technology and trends including enterprise integration, e-commerce, B2B integration, and Services Oriented Architecture (SOA).

"Edward Lee's experience working with enterprise and mid-market companies strengthens our already technically talented consulting team", commented Michael Klotz, Managing Partner for eBI Solutions. "Edward will continue working out of our New York office and support our existing relationships with the local Microsoft field team and the Microsoft BizTalk product team in Redmond."

In 2005, Edward Lee was selected by Microsoft to serve as a BizTalk Virtual Technical Specialist on a very select team comprised of only the most technically competent consultants in the industry. Lee's certifications include, Microsoft BizTalk, C# and Visual Basic.

With over 10 years in the industry, Lee has served in various technical capacities throughout his distinguished career including a lead position for 1GlobalPlace, a domain management firm acquired by Verisign.

As the Chief Technologist for eBI Solutions, Lee will oversee technology readiness for eBI Solutions' consultants while providing technology leadership for strategic client initiatives.
